Welcome to ICOM 2020!
Statistics are often confusing, contradictory and misleading. How many unreached people groups remain? Which religions are growing and which are disintegrating? Where is Christianity thriving and where is it fading? These are very difficult questions to answer. Many variables exist.

The reason the number of Christians in a community is difficult to measure is because Christianity by nature is much more than an outward claim. It is an inward transformation of the heart that is extremely difficult to measure. Natural byproducts (external fruit) will be present to some degree in everyone, but Jesus said it would be difficult at times to distinguish between the wheat and the tares (Matthew 13).

One thing is certain. The coherency of the Christian Faith and the power of the Cross of Jesus Christ will enable Christianity to penetrate all cultures and all people groups for all times. Where other world religions are predominantly associated with ethnicities, (Islam is primarily an Arabic Religion, Hinduism is primarily an Indian Religion and Buddhism is primarily an Asian religion), Christianity is neither eastern, western, Asian or Indian. In fact, wherever the world’s religions began, that geographical location continues to be their center today. Christianity is the exception. Its center is always moving! For the first time in world history more than 50% of Christians now live in the southern hemisphere. Christianity possesses a unique message that transcends culture and compels all people groups. That message is the Cross. Still the most recognized symbol in humanity, the cross has managed to bridge all gaps! Perhaps at this crucial time in world history when the people of the world are questioning historical and religious norms, we would do well to pause and remember the uniqueness of Jesus in a pluralistic world. The key to our missionary endeavors will always be the message itself over and above the strategies we employ. When the Cross goes before us transformation is sure to follow.

This year, ICOM 2020, will not only remind us of the most effective mission’s strategy ever, but will also rejuvenate our souls and reignite our passion to reach the world for Jesus! We hope you will join us in Indianapolis or online!

Jeff Vines
2020 ICOM President
Lead Pastor at One&All Church, San Dimas, CA

Indy 2020 is finally here! It is a little surreal to be honest. What a year of memories we will all have from this year! And yet, despite the difference from what we had planned to what we are seeing taking place... all the plans and changes we have experienced and what we have endured as a nation, not to mention the whole world, I have to tell you, I am so excited about this year!

This year would not be possible without the vision of our President Jeff Vines. His passion for "The Cross Before Me", and his ability to drive this virtually has really provided great leadership for ICOM this year. We are very grateful to Jeff and his team at One&All Church for all their hard work in these ever-changing times. Jeff’s love of ICOM and his heart for missions has been evident during this entire planning process.

We also want to say a huge thank you to our exhibitors and attendees that stuck with us during this unprecedented time, both in the Church and in conference planning. We are so grateful to you and your love of ICOM and global missions.

It’s incredible to think what might have been, but more importantly, I have to tell you, it is exponentially astounding as to what might come from this year! I cannot help but think God is using 2020 to develop a whole new direction for ICOM in the future.

WORKERS FOR THE HARVEST

ICOM earnestly seeks to ENCOURAGE all adults, college students and teens, missionaries, children and local churches as they strive to make disciples both near and far.

ICOM is determined to EQUIP servants of Christ in life-changing Kingdom work. ICOM highlights the needs of unreached people groups, refugees, international students, and mobilizes entire states to plant churches across the U.S. and around the world.

ICOM wants to boldly ENLIST workers who will sacrificially serve our Lord. A missionary shared that he had been wondering who was going to take over his mission after his own son had died. As he looked out over the crowds attending ICOM, his eyes filled with tears and he said, “Now I know who will take my place!”

Indianapolis, IN & Online!

For over 20 years, SICOM has been helping students explore their purpose in missions and ministry by gaining a greater Biblical worldview about global missions through teaching and interactive experiences.

Our mission is to encourage, equip, and enlist workers for the harvest and this extends to young people as we aim to foster a passion and desire to grow as followers of Jesus who make more disciples for the Kingdom.

Our goal this year is to help young people gain a greater Biblical understanding of origin, meaning, morality, and destiny and equip them to navigate these conversations through their everyday lives.

The SICOM main sessions will be a time for worship, local and global missions, and learning from experienced and engaging speakers about origin, meaning, morality, and destiny. Following the first two main sessions, the speakers will lead Q&A workshops for students to engage further with the messages. For both in-person and online viewers, students will have the opportunity to submit questions to be answered in real-time from the SICOM main stage.

<td>Roadblocks between Hinduisim and Christianity</td>
<td>Hinduisms’s philosophy of an-all inclusive identity and an endless quest for truth and peace has made it seductive and open-ended. The claim of a single God and a narrow way to Him in the Judeo-Christian worldview is met with resistance and skepticism. In this session, Kristh Dhanam will explore how to present Christianity through the foundations of love, justice, mercy and evil and offer cohesive steps to overcome specific obstacles.</td>

<td>Urban</td>
<td>Dwight Young</td>
<td>Disciple Making: Urban American Poverty</td>
<td>With the daily hardships and instability that accompany urban poverty, it can be difficult for many who are living in poverty to connect to the disciple-making strategies produced by the American church. For those living in poverty, learning to know, love, and live Jesus requires flexible, long-term, deeply committed relationships with mature believers willing to walk the journey with them. For more than 20 years, BLOC Ministries has been striving to provide just that in urban Cincinnati. The key to making disciples in urban centers of poverty? Living in the neighborhood and building relationships before building programs. Take away practical steps on how to build discipleship relationships in your city and watch video testimonies of successful ministry.</td>

Missions

| Missions | Disciple Making Movements | Curtis Sergeant | Be a disciple that God would love to multiply | This pillar of truth has to be included in any disciple making lifestyle, program. Curtis, the author of “The Only One” and director of Metalamp presents from his heart some decades of leading by example this must have fundamental ingredient. You can’t make a disciple of Jesus until you have a disciple of Jesus. |

| Missions | Disciple Making Movements | Lee Wood | The 7 things I learned in 7 years of making disciples who multiply | Lee loves God and loves One Body ministries. He succinctly and passionately shares the golden nuggets learned in the trenches. Don’t repeat the mistakes he made, take advantage of what God taught him and his co-laborers as they saw God multiply their efforts in Tampa, FL to start multiple disciple making streams among many nations. |

| Missions | Disciple Making Movements | Doug Lucas | How your church can grow through lifestyle evangelism | Doug, author of weekly mission enzina Brigade, and president of Team Expansion, interviews various church leaders across the USA as they share how God is teaching them to embrace disciple-making principles and tools in their local and global outreach efforts. |

| Missions | Disciple Making Movements | Tim Barber | Pornography’s impact: Physically, Mentally, Emotionally, Relationally; Spiritually - Part A | This Presentation will introduce the current science behind pornography and the multiple ways it impacts users. |

| Church Engagement | Missionsary Care | Tim Barber | “Breaking Free from the Pornography Trap” | This presentation focuses on protecting children and teens from pornography’s impact and introduces key elements in recovery and ministry to those already caught in its trap. The target audience is parents, those in ministry, or anyone for whom pornography has been a problem. |

| Missions | Review Ministries | Dave Linkhorn | Have been doing this for years: Discipling Missions and Social Media | As the Global Church has scattered abroad many times they were too few in number in many locations to form local churches. Yet, they continued to proclaim the Gospel and specifically work out what discipleship looks like in new cultural contexts. Social media became their tools. It shouldn’t surprise us as the Apostle Paul would do the exact same thing in a constant letter writing and commissioning during circumstances in which face-to-face communication wasn’t possible. In a season in which most of the rhythms of the Church has been disrupted by Covid-19 what has Disciples Missions already taught us? Let’s not reinvent the wheel. |

THANK YOU FROM THE ICOM STAFF!

Wow! When we started planning this year’s conference, none of us could have guessed everything that 2020 was going to throw at us. Through all of that, we can’t begin to express our gratitude. First, we want to thank all of our families for the endless support they provide. A big thanks to all volunteers, especially our Elite Volunteers, many of whom have served ICOM for years! And we certainly don’t want to forget about our exhibitors, sponsors, and workshop leaders who have joined us on this wild ride as we made the transition to a hybrid conference! Thank you to those who have stuck by us and even donated many of their fees to serve ICOM.

A special thank you to Jason Henderson and Bobby Harrington of Renew.org for the use of their virtual platform and helping us to take ICOM online in a whole new way.

We are so grateful for each of you who loves and supports ICOM!
